

Reemployment Assistance Overpayments

About Overpayments:

Overpayments can occur on your account at any time. Overpayments may be the result of oversight, misunderstanding, technical errors, redetermination, adjudication, appeals decisions, Reemployment Assistance Appeals Commission orders, court decisions or other mitigating circumstances.

When FloridaCommerce determines an overpayment has occurred on a Reemployment Assistance claim, a Notice of Determination will be distributed. The Notice of Determination will state the claimant has an overpayment and the amount the claimant must repay. The claimant has the right to appeal the Notice of Determination.

Returning Reemployment Assistance Overpayments:

You have the option to pay back overpayments multiple ways. These options are listed below:

- Check Payments - Please mail a check payment to the address below. Please make your check payable to the FloridaCommerce and provide your claim ID number in the memo line.
