RECOMMENDED ORDER OF SPECIAL DEPUTY

TO: Assistant Director,
Interim Executive Director,
Reemployment Assistance Services
DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

This matter comes before the undersigned Special Deputy pursuant to the Petitioner’s protest of the Respondent’s determination dated September 26, 2011.

After due notice to the parties, a telephone hearing was held on June 14, 2012. The Petitioner’s owner and an assistant director appeared and testified at the hearing. The Joined Party appeared and testified on her own behalf. A tax specialist II appeared and testified on behalf of the Respondent.

The record of the case, including the recording of the hearing and any exhibits submitted in evidence, is herewith transmitted. Proposed Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law were not received.

Issue:

Whether services performed for the Petitioner by the Joined Party and other individuals constitute insured employment pursuant to Sections 443.036(19), 443.036(21); 443.1216, Florida Statutes, and if so, the effective date of the liability.

Whether the Petitioner meets liability requirements for Florida reemployment assistance contributions, and if so, the effective date of liability, pursuant to Sections 443.036(19); 443.036(21), Florida Statutes.

Findings of Fact:

1. The Petitioner is a subchapter C corporation, incorporated for the purpose of running a performing arts pre-school.

2. The Petitioner used a leasing company until 2010. The Petitioner had all of the employees pay their own taxes after 2010.
3. The Joined Party provided services as an assistant teacher and as a cleaner for the Petitioner from July 1, 2007, through May 2009, and again from December 2009, through May 2011. There was no written contract between the parties.
4. The Joined Party's schedule varied. The schedule was set by the Petitioner. The Joined Party performed all services at the Petitioner's place of business.
5. The Joined Party began work as an assistant teacher. The Petitioner subsequently determined that the Joined Party should work as a cleaner instead.
6. The Joined Party was supervised by the Petitioner.
7. The Petitioner provided all of the equipment, tools, and materials needed to perform the work. The Joined Party had no expenses in conjunction with the work.
8. The Joined Party was paid $8.25 per hour. The Joined Party was paid $2,590.71 in the first quarter of 2011. The Joined Party was paid $3,432.53 per quarter in 2010.

Conclusions of Law:

9. The issue in this case, whether services performed for the Petitioner constitute employment subject to the Florida Unemployment Compensation Law, is governed by Chapter 443, Florida Statutes. Section 443.1216(1)(a)2., Florida Statutes, provides that employment subject to the chapter includes service performed by individuals under the usual common law rules applicable in determining an employer-employee relationship.
10. The Supreme Court of the United States held that the term "usual common law rules" is to be used in a generic sense to mean the "standards developed by the courts through the years of adjudication." United States v. W.M. Webb, Inc., 397 U.S. 179 (1970).
11. The Supreme Court of Florida adopted and approved the tests in 1 Restatement of Law, Agency 2d Section 220 (1958), for use to determine if an employment relationship exists. See Cantor v. Cochran, 184 So.2d 173 (Fla. 1966); Miami Herald Publishing Co. v. Kendall, 88 So.2d 276 (Fla. 1956); Magarian v. Southern Fruit Distributors, 1 So.2d 858 (Fla. 1941); see also Kane Furniture Corp. v. R. Miranda, 506 So.2d 1061 (Fla. 2d DCA 1987).
12. Restatement of Law is a publication, prepared under the auspices of the American Law Institute, which explains the meaning of the law with regard to various court rulings. The Restatement sets forth a nonexclusive list of factors that are to be considered when judging whether a relationship is an employment relationship or an independent contractor relationship.
13. 1 Restatement of Law, Agency 2d Section 220 (1958) provides:
  - (1) A servant is a person employed to perform services for another and who, in the performance of the services, is subject to the other's control or right of control.
  - (2) The following matters of fact, among others, are to be considered:
    - (a) the extent of control which, by the agreement, the business may exercise over the details of the work;
    - (b) whether or not the one employed is engaged in a distinct occupation or business;
    - (c) the kind of occupation, with reference to whether, in the locality, the work is usually done under the direction of the employer or by a specialist without supervision;

- (d) the skill required in the particular occupation;
  - (e) whether the employer or the worker supplies the instrumentalities, tools, and the place of work for the person doing the work;
  - (f) the length of time for which the person is employed;
  - (g) the method of payment, whether by the time or by the job;
  - (h) whether or not the work is a part of the regular business of the employer;
  - (i) whether or not the parties believe they are creating the relation of master and servant;
  - (j) whether the principal is or is not in business.
14. Comments in the Restatement explain that the word “servant” does not exclusively connote manual labor, and the word “employee” has largely replaced “servant” in statutes dealing with various aspects of the working relationship between two parties. In Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services v. Department of Labor & Employment Security, 472 So.2d 1284 (Fla. 1st DCA 1985) the court confirmed that the factors listed in the Restatement are the proper factors to be considered in determining whether an employer-employee relationship exists. However, in citing La Grande v. B&L Services, Inc., 432 So.2d 1364, 1366 (Fla. 1st DCA 1983), the court acknowledged that the question of whether a person is properly classified an employee or an independent contractor often cannot be answered by reference to “hard and fast” rules, but rather must be addressed on a case-by-case basis.
  15. The record reflects that the Petitioner exercised control over where, when, and how the work was performed. The Petitioner set the Joined Party’s schedule and required work to be performed at the place of business. The Petitioner supervised the Joined Party and in fact exercised control over the position held by the Joined Party in unilaterally changing the Joined Party from an assistant teacher to a cleaner.
  16. The Joined Party was paid an hourly rate. Payment by time tends to indicate an employer-employee relationship between the parties.
  17. The Joined Party provided services for the Petitioner for over one year. Such a length of service tends to show a more permanent relationship between the parties.
  18. The Petitioner provided all of the tools, equipment, and materials needed to perform the work. The Joined Party had no expenses.
  19. The work performed by the Joined Party as an assistant teacher/cleaner was a regular part of the day to day business of the Petitioner’s preschool.
  20. A preponderance of the evidence presented in this case reveals that the Petitioner exercised sufficient control over the Joined Party as to create an employer-employee relationship.
  21. Florida law indicates that an employer is liable if during a calendar quarter during the current or preceding year the employer paid wages of at least $1,500 for service in employment.
  22. The Petitioner paid the Joined Party $2,590.71 in the first quarter of 2011.
  23. Accordingly, the Petitioner meets the liability requirements for Florida unemployment compensation contributions.

Recommendation: It is recommended that the determination dated September 26, 2011, be AFFIRMED.

Respectfully submitted on July 11, 2012.
