Rural Infrastructure Fund (RIF) Overview

- State-funded grant program administered by FloridaCommerce's Bureau of Small Cities and Rural Communities.
- An economic development, workforce, and business development tool that provides funding assistance for the planning, preparing and financing of infrastructure projects in rural communities, which will encourage job creation, capital investment and the strengthening and diversification of rural economies.
- Intended to facilitate access of rural communities to other state and federal infrastructure funding programs:
 - Small Cities Community Development Block Grant (CDBG)
 - U.S. Department of Agriculture-Rural Development (USDA-RD)
 - U.S. Economic Development Administration (EDA)
- Governed by Section 288.0655, Florida Statutes (F.S.).

FY 23-24 RIF Statutory Changes Summary

During the 2023 Legislative Session, HB1209 passed and included several changes to the statutes governing the RIF program.

- House Bill 1209 increased maximum award amount to 75 percent of total infrastructure project cost, or 100 percent for infrastructure projects located in a rural community defined as a fiscally constrained county or a rural area of opportunity.
- Allows for maximum award amount of $300,000 for planning projects with no local match requirements.
- Removes local funds match requirement for planning projects related to preclearance review within a rural area of opportunity.
- Requires that review of applications include an evaluation of the economic benefit and long-term viability.

House Bill 1209 Overview

House Bill 1209 provides that an eligible grantee may receive direct payment for performance under its agreement with FloridaCommerce without being required to spend its own cash first.

- Eligible grantees are rural communities or rural areas of opportunity as defined by section 288.0656(2), F.S.

All agreements with eligible grantees will include language to allow for this option.

Procedure for exercising the direct payment option:

- A rural community or rural area of opportunity (RAO) must demonstrate financial hardship.
- A rural community or rural area of opportunity which is located in a fiscally-constrained county, as defined in section 218.67(1), F.S., is deemed to have demonstrated a financial hardship
- In either case, the grantee must request in writing to exercise the direct payment option.

Payment request documentation requirements will be the same as previous reimbursement requests, except that proof of payment will not be required.

FY 2023-2024 RIF Hurricane Idalia Appropriations

In November 2023, the Florida Legislature passed, and Governor Ron DeSantis signed into law, new legislation allocating an additional $5 million to the RIF program to fund projects in Hurricane Idalia impacted communities.

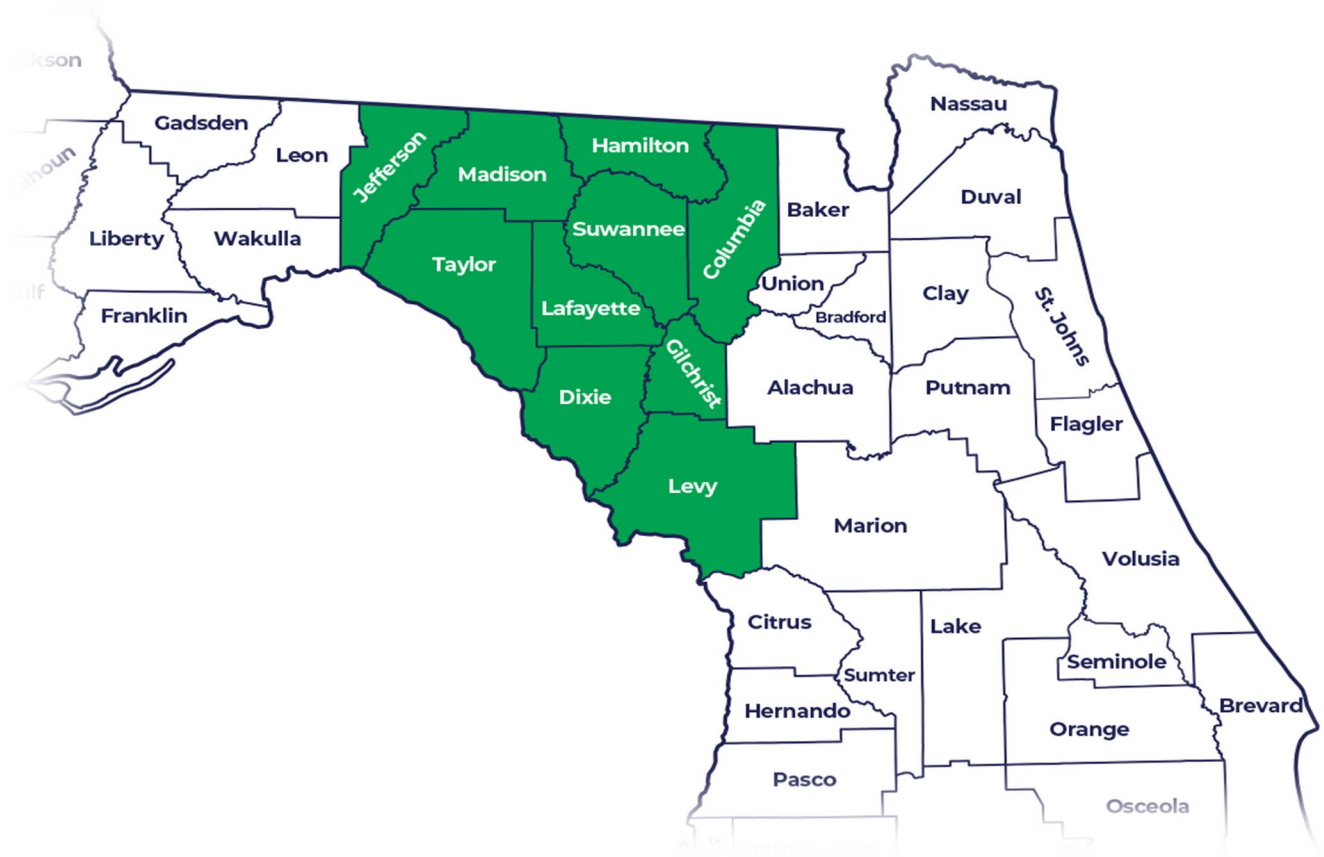

- The following counties, and municipalities within these counties, are eligible to apply: Columbia, Dixie, Gilchrist, Hamilton, Jefferson, Lafayette, Levy, Madison, Suwannee and Taylor.

FloridaCommerce completed a FY 2023-2024 RIF application cycle in November 2023, with more than $24 million in awards to sixteen rural communities.

Preclearance Review Grants

- Maximum amounts and match requirements:

Projects Located	Maximum Amount	Required Match
Outside a Rural Area of Opportunity	$75,000	50% local funds
Within a Rural Area of Opportunity	$300,000	No match required
Within a catalyst site (Section 288.0656, F.S.)	$300,000	May be waived

- Enables rural communities to potentially utilize the Expedited Permitting – Preclearance Review Process as outlined in (Section 403.973, F.S.).
- Funds may be used for surveys, feasibility studies, and other activities related to the identification and preclearance review of land which may be suitable for preclearance review of specified types of land uses and other activities requiring permits.

Program Application Review Factors

Application Review will include, but may not be limited to:

- Evaluation of economic benefits of the project and long-term viability.
- Project's potential for enhanced job creation or capital investment.
- Demonstration and level of public and private commitment.

Grant administrative and consultant expenses should be minimized to the greatest extent possible.

Application Development Tips

Part I – Applicant Profile

- Applicant Project Contact – an individual able to respond to specific questions regarding the application or proposed project.

Part II – Project Description and Timeline

- Project description should begin with a clear statement of what RIF funds will be used for.
- Application instructions provide specific information that should be included in the project description.

Part III – Economic Narrative

- Important in the required evaluation of economic benefit and long-term viability.
- Focus on demonstrating and documenting the need for the infrastructure in attracting business/industry that will create jobs and increase capital investment.

Part IV – Project Budget

- Include total infrastructure project costs, not just the portion to be funded through RIF award.
- Double check project costs prior to submission.
- Provide a clear explanation of how project costs were estimated.

Part V – Sources and Uses of Non-RIF Funds

- List sources of funds for all costs listed in the “Other Funding Source” column of the Project Budget.

Part VI – Participating Party Information

- No longer required – but can provide the clearest demonstration of economic benefit and specific job creation/capital investment.

Part VII – Application Authorization

- Application must be signed by the chief elected official or delegated representative.
 - Applications signed by delegated representative must include a letter of delegation signed by the chief elected official.
