employee. The location code for WIA-funded work experience, such as the Summer Youth Program, and any adult enrolled in a work experience activity for which workers' compensation coverage is required is 1110.

The existing location code for Food Stamp Employment and Training (FSET) and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) participants is 1104, and should continue to be used for those participants.

You will need to track the number of participants and the number of hours that each participant is engaged in a work experience activity for which workers' compensation is required. You will be required to report that information at the end of the summer for the Summer Youth Program, and at the end of the program year (June 30th) for any adult participants. These data are needed to report to the Division of Risk Management, who in turn converts hours worked into full-time equivalents (FTEs) and then uses that number, in addition to an "experience" or "claims history" element, by location code, to equitably distribute the cost of our Workers' Comp premium.
